

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week

Beginning May 13.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ's Life. Lessons from His miracles of healing.—Matt. ix, 27, 28; xxv, 29-31.

In the three years of His public ministry our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ spent most of His time "in teaching, preaching and healing." His miracles were performed primarily to convince the world of His divinity. They were God's stamp of approval upon Him. In His sermon on the day of Pentecost Peter declared that God approved of Christ "by miracles, signs and wonders." But the miracles had secondary purposes. They were performed in every case except one—the cursing of the barren fig tree for the benefit of suffering mankind. They were usually miracles of healing. "Jesus went about all the cities and villages teaching in their synagogues and healing every sickness and every disease among the people." But in addition to this the miracles of Christ had a didactic character. They taught lessons. They were in a sense parables in action. He spoke many parables to the people, and in His miracles He worked many parables before them. The former were word pictures of the kingdom, and the latter were object lessons of the kingdom, and sometimes the teachings of the miracles are more vivid than those of the parables, and we may well, therefore, study Christ's miracles from the standpoint of the lessons they teach.

1. The miracles of Christ teach us a lesson on Christ's divinity. In some quarters today the doctrine of Christ's deity is seriously questioned and even boldly denied, but Christ claimed to be God, and by the exercise of powers that belong to God He substantiated that claim. To give up the deity of Christ is to give up belief in His miracles; to give up belief in His miracles is to give up the gospels that record them, and to give up the gospels is practically to give up the Bible, to give up God and to be "without hope in the world." These great truths are all bound together. They are links in the same chain. Break one link and the chain is broken, and this is true regardless of the link that is broken. Our faith must embrace all or it dwindles into nothing; hence the need of holding fast the doctrine of miracles as an attestation to the fact that Christ while human was also more than human, that He was God.

2. The miracles of Christ teach us a lesson on Christ's attitude toward humanity. He did not come to earth to behold the miseries and afflictions of men and to hold Himself aloof from them, but to sympathize with suffering humanity and to bring divine relief to their sufferings. In every miracle that He performed we see a manifestation of His sympathy, His love and His compassion for a lost and sinful race and His desire to share their sorrows and to lift men above them. Moreover, His miracles were symbolic of His attitude toward man's spiritual condition. The healing of the blind was typical of His willingness to heal the spiritually blind; when He made the lame to walk He demonstrated His desire and ability to make those who "walk in the spirit" who had been crippled by walking in sin, and in raising the dead He showed that He could and was willing to raise those who were "dead in trespasses and in sins." His attitude is the same toward us today. He loves us and sympathizes with us in our physical sufferings and is able and willing to give us "rest for our souls."

3. The miracles of Christ teach us what we as His disciples are to be. While we cannot miraculously cure the sick or feed the hungry, we can feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, show hospitality to the stranger and visit the sick, the unfortunate and imprisoned, and if we will do so in His name He Himself will accept it as done unto Him and will accordingly reward us.

BIBLE READINGS.

On a Finnish Lamp Post.

Finnish Christian Endeavorers, of course, have been vitally interested in the recent stirring political events in that country. "As soon as the strike began," says a letter, "every public house, hotel and restaurant closed and remained closed until the czar's message came. Otherwise blood would have been spilt. The only news we received was from St. Petersburg, the official message, which the national guard posted up on the lamp posts. As soon as they had gone up, came a squad of Christian Endeavorers and posted up a text underneath to encourage the people to be patient and peaceful."

Magnetics.

It ought to be the aim of all true Endeavorers to "lift" those whom they touch day by day, but this can only be done as there is power flowing into us from God Himself. Unless we are in close touch with the Master and have His grace and divine influence flowing in us and through us we shall not succeed in raising either our church, our societies or our companions.—Rev. F. J. Horsefield, D. D.

Cheerful Endeavor.

A British Endeavorer recently gave in a convention address a new interpretation for "C. E."—Cheerful Endeavor.

The Brotherhood of Man.
And we'll praise our age of iron, and we'll sing our song of steam.

And we'll belt the tides and lightnings, and the purport of our plan—
The deep eternal meaning of the dream within our dream—
Is the empire universal of the brotherhood of man.

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE."

Its Motto: "Helpful and Helpful."

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and helpful. Being for the common good, it is far the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to

THE AMERICAN, Ellsworth, Me.

I THANK THEE, GOD.

For my small corner of the world—
Blue sea, blue sky and pale green sod—
And noble mountains glistening mistily—
I thank thee, God!

For deeps where wild syringas droops,
And dogwood-blossoms shyly nod,
And the wild currant swings her crimson lamps—
I thank thee, God!

For the sweet clover at my door,
Set all day long with golden bees;
The dewdrops linked along a blade of grass,
The bending trees;

The slender vine about my porch,
The meadow-lark at dawn that sings—
I thank thee, God, that I have passionate joy
In simple things!

—By Ellen Higginson.

Selected by Sadie.

Dear M. B. Friends:
It is well for us once in a while to take account of the "simple things" that are so much a part of our every day surroundings. We scarcely recognize their worth. A partial list of them you will find in the above poem. Look about your own home location. What are the beauties of nature that have been near at hand and yet scarcely noticed?

Dear Aunt Madge and M. B. Sisters:

It is Monday morning and I am going to write a word to the friends. Funny to write Monday morning, isn't it? Well, I am not going to wash to-day, but have churned and done up the morning's work, and as it is so near house-cleaning time, I concluded most of the sisters would be very busy indeed and probably too tired to help Aunt Madge out. I know my letter will not interest all of you, but it may help Aunt Madge a little.

Melissa, who in this world are you? You are a good guesser, or did somebody tell? I shall be glad to know who you are, and H. too. She said you were a near neighbor to her, but I can't for the life of me think who either of you can be, for I am acquainted with but one or two people in the town where you live, but know of several. Are you one of the several? Be sure and come to reunion next fall; remember I shall be looking for you. The recipe you sent to the column, "How to cook a husband," was amusing. My husband is all right. I do not know whether I have cooked him unaware, or whether he never needed cooking. As long as he is all right, suppose it doesn't matter.

Dear Grandma G., I was very much interested in your account of your first house-keeping. I sometimes think I should like to have begun the same way. How happy you must have been! But somebody must help some of the mothers and fathers when they are old; that I tell to me, and I'm not sorry. There is satisfaction in thinking of some of the self-denials.

Aunt Maria, how are you? I am sorry you have been so ill. I shall try and come to see you sometime this summer; have the ham-mock ready. Don't tell anybody, but my John told me yesterday that he thought he should move the "whole business" up to the factory next fall. Won't we have a nice time then?

Sisters, I want to tell you some incidents that came to my observation. A short time ago I was at a railroad station. A young man, his wife and her mother sat on a settee. I was by myself in another part of the room. A young man came in, bought a ticket, took a match from his pocket, went out on the platform, looked through the window and said to the married man: "Come out here; I can't smoke in there." When the man went out he asked his wife to excuse him. How many married men would have been as thoughtful to have done so? As a rule, I do not think husband and wife are as thoughtful in these courtesies to each other as they should be. What do you think, sisters?

At another time I was in a car and saw a woman call the attention of five other women to a woman who came in. I heard her whisper something about "combination of colors." I looked at the woman (for it was none other than myself). She had on a dark blue suit, with green silk pippings, white embroidered collar with a red silk bow and (just think of it) a red tie girdle. I suppose if she had had on a red tie or blue girdle she would have caused such a shock to the bellatrix. These stars of the second magnitude, they give me a chill! When I see one I always think of a little verse I used to hear an old lady say:

"Thanks to my parents, who gave me my breeding,
And taught me betimes to love writing and reading."

Well, dear sisters, do you wish I would not write any more? Well, I'll stop. Good-bye, for this time.

P. S. I would like to know something about John Ruskin.

Well, well, G.; it is a treat to hear from you once more and to know, like many another, you have the reunion in view. I think we will have to take John Ruskin as a subject. I will tell you G., confidentially, I do not feel very well acquainted with him myself.

The following letter from Dell I appreciate very much, as she was willing to help out Aunt Madge, and she will see that Sister B. has redeemed herself—even before she saw Dell's ominous threat.

Thanks to you all for your steadfast faithfulness to the Column. You will all be glad that the latest news from Aunt Maria, who has been very ill, is that she is better, and she asks the M. B.'s to write her, which they will be glad to do. We hope she will soon be well again.

Dear M. B.:
As this is a belated snow storm that puts a drawback on housecleaning, I hope every sister will write so we shall not see a slack in our Column. But we all know Aunt Madge will give us something.

Did any of you ever try putting salt into your lamps? I have for years, and it really gives a clearer light, the chimneys do not smoke so quickly and best of all, the oil lasts longer. There, Rockefeller, will not want me to tell you that, but I have.

Now another thing, if you have to pick a fowl or chicken, cut off the head and throw

THREE FACTS
For Sick Women
To Consider

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating their periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

fowl quickly into ice-cold water and pick as soon as you can. It is much better than scalding. My John picks hundreds that way and they hardly ever tear.

I have had three letters from Sister B. of late, and enjoyed them, but I believe I will not write again till she gives us a letter in the Column.

My John is to-day painting the first chamber furniture we ever had, white, to go with an iron bed I had last year. It will look fine and there is such a strong attachment to the first things we had when we began a new home I could not bear to discard them. Expect we shall feel as proud as we did when we first set them up and stood off to admire them and thought they will do till we can get better. But to-day I would not let them go far better.

Almost time to think of reunion again. Now, Aunt Madge, hope you have such a pile of letters that mine will have to wait till they begin to wonder where Dell is.

Dear Aunt Madge:

It does seem too bad that you were left so nearly alone last week. Now I am expecting you will be deluged with letters smelling of soap and water and mud, as the sisters are all busy with the cleaning-cloth and brush and garden rake.

Where is Susan? Was she in the danger belt of earthquake and fire? I am sure we are all hoping she is safe. I have a brother there whose business is in San Francisco, but as his home is in Alameda, I am hoping he and his family and other dear friends there may be safe. What a time of anxiety and weary waiting it may be to many of you, but before this is in print no doubt we shall know the worst, or, as we hope, the best for us all.

Lura remarked when speaking of the destruction of those magnificent buildings in San Francisco, "What is the use to accumulate such wealth and splendor when in a moment it is swept away?" It does make us feel that there is nothing that endures but the eternal principles of righteousness.

What a rainy Easter! It could hardly be called a trifle, it has cleared the fields of snow, the flower plants are pushing their crowns out of their shells and we are leaving the things of the dead past to take up new burdens and live on new lives of joy and sunshine and helpfulness.

I can add nothing to the literary number but I am trying to wear all my clouds inside out so as to show their silver lining. I guess you would think so if you could see me sitting here trying to write and smile, with Lura at the organ and Burt by her side with his violin, going from one tune to another as fast as their fingers can fly. They know it doesn't disturb my fingers or my eyes, and I have so trained my mind to do what I set out to do, that I don't let anything disturb me. But I think I will close this on the strain of "Pop Goes the Weasel." Hope the weasel won't get any of Dell's chickens.

Love to all our readers, and they are numberless.

Womanhood vs. "Woman's Rights."
NORTH BROOKSVILLE, April 28, '06
To the Editor of The American:

If you will kindly allow me a short space in THE AMERICAN, I have just a few words I would like to say in regard to an article I read in your paper a few weeks ago from the pen of one of the leading members of the Equal Suffrage league of Hancock county. In this article she uses these words or words to this effect: "Women are looked upon by men and by the eyes of the law as being in the same class as idiots, imbeciles and untaxed Indians."

If the author of this article is looked upon in this light, we are sorry for her and trust that ere long she will regain the position that God originally intended her to hold, but the rest of us, the majority of mothers of Hancock county, are prone to investigate a little are we acknowledge that we are regarded in that way by our husbands, our brothers and our fathers.

We read that the mother of our first president took great care in forming her boy's character. She it was who taught him first to obey, then to command, and one historian, a man, says of her: "If it be the hand that rocks the cradle that is the hand that moves the world," then what a stupendous debt of gratitude this nation owes to Mary Ball, the mother of George Washington. And every true citizen, men and women alike, say Amen.

The mother of Abraham Lincoln died when her boy was ten years old, but her mission was ended, her work on earth well done. She had started her boy on the right track while she was slowly being drawn down to death in her poverty-stricken home by that dread disease, consumption. There, under circumstances that might cause the strongest man to fail, there she taught him to say in later years, "All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." Whoever thought of Nancy Lincoln as an idiot and imbecile or an inferior?

The author of Harriet Beecher Stowe's life, says of her, "She did more to abolish slavery than any other one person," and the whole nation rise up and call her blessed.

One more incident. The greatest honor ever given to a human being was given to a woman, and that was when God placed the infant Christ in the care of the Virgin Mary. To a woman was given the sacred privilege of caring for Him in His helpless infancy, and hers was the joy of watching His spiritual growth as it was given to none other.

What these women have done, the women are doing all over the world to-day—their duty. We clamor for "equal rights"—we have them—rights that are sacred; rights that are God-given. Because they differ from those of our brothers is no reason that they are inferior or are regarded as such. We cannot do everything, and some one must train the minds of our children to make them strong to fight life's battles. Someone has said that "God made man to vote and woman to make man fit to vote."

I have nothing to say against the members of the Equal Suffrage league of Hancock county. I do not doubt their honesty or sincerity, but I do think that we are not yet called to go to the polls. We have other duties nearer home, and when God wants us to cast our vote as a part of His all-wise plan, no puny body of men at Augusta or Washington can stay His divine purpose. Until then we will go on, safe in the knowledge that men are rejoicing as they have rejoiced since time began in the truth of that famous saying, "A mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

Our work is not easy. It requires patience and prayer to live up to our Divine rights, to do our duty, but we should not shrink or seek to change, but remember that it is the slaves to duty that are heirs of God.

GRACE GRINDLE LIMEBURNER.

W. C. T. U. Column.

[The editor invites secretaries of local unions of the W. C. T. U. in Hancock county, and white ribboners generally, to contribute to this column reports of meetings or items that will be of interest to workers in other parts of the county. We would like this to be a live column, but it needs some effort on the part of W. C. T. U. women to make it so. It is a column of their making, not ours, and will be what they make it. Items and communications should be short, and, of course, subject to approval of the editor.]

SOUTHWEST HARBOR.

There were twenty-five present at the Y meeting at the home of Fred J. Higgins Friday night. It was voted that the contest mentioned some time ago end May 5, the winning side to be given a bouquet by the losing side.

The next meeting will be a half-pound party in the Congregational vestry.

Miss Beulah Bates, our grammar school teacher, gave a reading, which was much appreciated.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed by the young women's auxiliary temperance union:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our union our beloved sister, Edith M. Ralph, and for the first time break our chain by death, therefore

Resolved, That while we mourn because our union has lost this sister and her family a much-loved daughter and sister, we humbly acknowledge that our Heavenly Father knows best when to claim His own; and while we mourn our friend, we dimly realize the heavenly tenderness and gentleness of the death angel's whisper that called her to the glorious home of her Heavenly Father on high, where she walks with angels clothed in white.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of our sister, and we will commend them to Him who wept at the grave of His friend, and who has now called Edith to "come forth" to a new and higher life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased sister, to THE AMERICAN for publication, and also that a copy be placed upon our records.

News from San Francisco.
WATSONVILLE, SANTA CRUZ COUNTY, CAL., May 1, 1906.

To the Editor of The American:

When I received my AMERICAN last week on Tuesday morning I was very much surprised that it should arrive here on time, when it seemed we had been almost cut off from the outside world for several days after our terrible earthquake of April 18, and more surprised that you had heard of it in dear old Maine the same day. A friend reminded me that Maine was about three hours behind us in time and that gave you more time to hear from us.

I have not time this morning to write particulars; have written them to my sister, Mrs. Gideon S. Cook, and her daughters, Mrs. Henry Davis and Mrs. G. Frank Newman. The earthquake was the most severe here that we ever had, and did a great deal of damage to personal property and all the bridges. About five minutes after the shock the fire bell rang, always a terror at any time but more so that morning. The fire was at Notre Dame academy, a school carried on by Catholic sisters, with quite a number of boarding pupils; but all were saved, no one injured or killed, but many had narrow escapes.

At first it seemed terrible here; then our thoughts turned to San Francisco, where many had relatives and friends. I believe it was twenty-four hours before we heard correctly from there, and nothing could be worse than the report. We soon lost nearly every thought of our own city, but tried to do something for them. A number of car loads of provisions and clothes have gone from here; the first one was cooked food.

As we have relatives and friends in nearly every town in Hancock county, will you kindly print the names of those who are safe here?

Mrs. Thomas Leland (daughter of Daniel S. Swan), had one son, Harry E. Leland, and wife in San Francisco; place of business burned but home saved. Another son, Alvah H. Leland, and wife, of San Jose, not injured; home slightly damaged.

The late Lester S. Cook's, (Mrs. Gideon S. Cook's son) family in San Francisco; not injured but home burned.

Mrs. Ida A. Thompson (daughter of my sister, Adelia C. Bowie Moore) not injured, but home badly damaged.

Mrs. Mary J. Cook Emmons (born in Waltham, sister of Gideon S. Cook) and family not injured; her son, George Emmons, living in Alameda, came for his mother and sisters in his automobile and got them safely to his home.

Two daughters of Capt. Richard Leland, of Eden, Mrs. Emma Nichols (and her two sons) and Mrs. Annie Schwatka were living in San Francisco; the husband of Mrs. Hattie Shute (their sister living in Watsonville) went to San Francisco and found them and brought them to his home. Another sister lives here, Miss Alice Leland; their brother, Richard Leland, and sister Roxanna live in San Luis Obispo. The earthquake was not bad there.

My other sister, Adelia Moore, lives at Emmet, two of her daughters near here. They received posts from her written the morning of the earthquake, but she did not mention it. We think it did not reach there.

My cousin, Edwin Swan (son of Nathan Adams Swan, of Franklin), and wife came here from Overton, Neb., last October, and have been with my sister, Mrs. Leland. They were ready to return to Overton, and were to leave here the morning of earthquake, and were just waiting for the back to take them to the depot, when the shock came. The back took them to the depot, but the train was late and a bridge close by was wrecked, and they were delayed here a week, then going by a different route.

After all this experience, however, Cousin Edwin said he should move back here if he could sell at Overton, for the cyclones there were worse.

There are a number of Sanborn families here from Maine. All were saved but those in San Francisco, Lucius Sanborn's wife, son and daughter, lost everything but life and hope.

Two Linscott families, James, of Watsonville, and also the widow of Fred Linscott, are safe. W. J. Linscott, superintendent of schools, of Santa Cruz, were to visit our schools. All schools were closed until yesterday.

George Cleveland, another Maine man, and his family are safe, only a mile or two from this city.

Walter Kidder's daughters, Louise and Zenia are safe in Berkeley, where they are on relief committee to help those who were out of San Francisco.

I do not think of any others of Maine.

TAKE TIME TO EAT.

Hurry at Meals Will Send You to G. A. Parcher for Miona Stomach Tablets.

"Eat in haste and repent at leisure" is an old saying brought up to date.

Hurry at breakfast means a bad start for the day, and if you hurry also at the other meals, you will soon suffer with loss of appetite, sleeplessness, nervousness, furred tongue, specks before the eyes, headaches, backaches, weakness and debility, indigestion or other ills that are caused by an abused stomach.

Here in Ellsworth, as in thousands of other places over the country, hurry at meals increases the druggist's business. Not a day passes that G. A. Parcher does not sell several packages of Miona stomach tablets to those who have ruined their digestion by not taking time to eat.

G. A. Parcher has seen so many cures made by Miona that he sells it under an absolute guarantee that it will be successful in every case where it is used in accordance with directions, that is, one tablet before each meal, and will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cost. A large box of Miona tablets costs but 50 cents if it cures; nothing if it fails.

THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

FOR THE COUNTY OF HANCOCK,

WILL BE HELD AT
HANCOCK HALL, IN ELLSWORTH.

On Tuesday, June 5, 1906

AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

for the purpose of nominating candidates for two senators, clerk of courts, judge of probate, sheriff, county attorney, one county commissioner, register of deeds and county treasurer.

At the conventions of 1884 and 1886, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That hereafter the delegates in all cases shall be voters in the town which they represent.

Resolved, That a renomination to any office to which any person may have been elected can not be claimed as a matter of custom and usage; personal fitness alone being the test.

Resolved, That in future calls for County Conventions, the committee are requested to make the foregoing resolutions a part of the same.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate; and for each forty votes cast for the republican candidate for governor in 1904, an additional delegate; and for a fraction of twenty-five votes in excess of forty votes, an additional delegate.

The following list shows the number of delegates to which each city, town and plantation in the county is entitled in the convention:

Amherst, 2; Andover, 1; Bangor, 1; Bar Harbor, 1; Bluehill, 1; Brookline, 1; Brooksville, 1; Bucksport, 1; Castine, 1; Cranberry Isles, 1; DeLorge, 1; Deer Isle, 1; Eastbrook, 1; Eden, 1; Ellsworth, 1; Franklin, 1; Gouldsboro, 1; Hancock, 1; Isle au Haut, 1; Lamoine, 1; Mariaville, 1; Mount Desert, 1.

The county committee will be in session at Hancock hall on the morning of June 5, at 10 o'clock a. m., to receive the credentials of delegates.

Per order of the republican county committee, R. L. GRINDLE, Chairman.

A Republican State Convention

WILL BE HELD IN

City Hall, Portland,

Wednesday, June 27, 1906,

AT 10:30 O'CLOCK A. M.

for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor to be supported at the September election, and transacting any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate; and for each 75 votes cast for the republican candidate for governor in 1904, an additional delegate; and for a fraction of 40 votes in excess of 75 votes, a further additional delegate. Vacancies in the delegation of any city, town or plantation can only be filled by residents of the county in which the vacancy exists.

The state committee will be in session in the reception room of the hall at 9:30 a. m. of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving credentials of delegates. In order to be eligible to participate in the convention, delegates must be elected subsequent to date of the call for this convention.

All electors of Maine, whatever their political affiliations may have been, who believe in the general principles and policy of the republican party and desire its success at the polls in the coming election in this State, are cordially invited to unite under this call in electing delegates to the convention.

Per order, Republican State Committee, SETH M. CARTER, Chairman.

BYRON BOYD, Secretary.

Lewiston, April 20, 1906.

REPRESENTATIVE CLASS CONVENTION AT FRANKLIN.

THE republicans of the representative class composed of the towns of Franklin, Gouldsboro, Sullivan, Winter Harbor, Sorrento, Eastbrook, Waltham, Townships Seven, Eight, Nine, Ten, Twenty-one and Thirty-three are hereby notified to meet by delegates in convention at Town hall, at Franklin, on Tuesday, the 12th day of June, 1906, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative to the legislature to be voted for at the September election, and to transact any other business that may properly come before said convention. The basis of representation to be twice the number of delegates each town is entitled to send to the County Convention.

Per order of District Committee, J. B. CLARK, Sec'y.

Dated May 4, 1906.

"Back to the People!"

Our democratic friends are making frenzied attempts to catch votes in the coming State election by adopting as a slogan a catchy phrase of their self-appointed standard-bearer.

The big gun of the party has taken snuff, and the little ones have all begun to sneeze.

"Back to the people!" Yes, for many, many years the ever-recurring question of who shall preside over the destinies of this good State of ours for the period allotted by law has been submitted to the people, and with only a break now and then the answer has come back from the people that the grand old republican party is good enough for them.

Whatever the ills that the republicans of Maine, during their long continuance in power, may have brought about—and we are far from admitting that they have brought about any—it appears that the people, for whom the democrats affect so strong a love, prefers to bear them than fly to others that they know not of.

"Back to the people!" Yes, it is after all a slogan that well applies to the party that has adopted it. Even in its sanest moments, that is just the attitude it has ever maintained—its back to the people; ever looking behind, never forward; ever looking down, never up; ever opposing, never proposing; ever destructive, never constructive; ever fighting the instinctive progressiveness of those for whom it professes so ardent an affection; wrong on every great national question of the last half century, whether political, industrial, nautical or commercial.

"Back to the people," forsooth! A last despairing cry of a political party, which, like the long-eared quadruped of the cartoonist, has no pride of ancestry and no hope of posterity.

Nobody is going to be hoodooed by a catch-penny phrase as meaningless as this. Or if it means anything it is merely the frantic appeal of a desperate minority to turn republicans out and to turn democrats in.

It's "front to people" that the dominant party of this State has always presented, and that is why the people have retained it so long in power, and where it is likely to remain.

A Report and A Message.

Speaking of the psychological moment, the report of the bureau of corporations on the Standard Oil Co. and the message of the President transmitting it to Congress, came at such a moment, if anything ever did. Just at the moment when the two sides are lining up for a vote on the rate bill, and when that measure is fighting for its integrity, if not for its very life, the report on Standard Oil is a veritable bomb in the hands of the administration.

The report has been the sensation of the week in Washington, and Commissioner Garfield has made the reputation of a lifetime in rendering it. It is stated that the railroad discriminations discovered by the bureau of corporations netted the Standard a profit of $750,000 a year on its freight business.

This was bad enough, but it was only a drop in the bucket compared to the enormous advantage that this discrimination enabled the Standard to exercise in squeezing the last cent out of the consumer all over the country. Beside the cold, official statement of the report, the most insistent clamor of the papers and of the magazines seems tame. For this is official, while the other is an unofficial arraignment.

Accompanying the report is the message of the President saying that the report alone would prove that the passage of an effective rate bill is an absolute necessity.

Our democratic contemporary, hard pushed as usual for a complaint against the administration of our county affairs, declares in all seriousness, and with the apparent expectation that the declaration will be regarded as a revelation, that our county tax has been doubled in the last twenty years! Why, bless you, it has more than doubled, and what of it? In the same time the valuation of the county has more than doubled—$755,400 in 1885; over $18,000,000 in 1905. The rate of taxation, which is the real test of the tax burden, is actually less now than it was then; it was .01 in 1905 against .0132 in 1885. This fact, which is the vital one, our disingenuous contemporary carefully refrains from mentioning.

The rapid passing of the Grand Army of the Republic, as indicated by a recent report of Commander-in-Chief Tanner, causes a feeling of sadness. The veterans of the Civil war are now dropping from the ranks at the rate of 5,000 a month!

Peace Day Celebration.

May 18, the anniversary of the opening of the Hague conference, is to be observed throughout the country as Peace Day, especially by the pupils of the public schools.

The state superintendents of schools in Massachusetts and Ohio have made the day an official holiday, and it is requested that the public schools of Maine observe the day in some appropriate manner.

Programmes may be obtained from the State superintendent of the W. C. T. U. department of peace and arbitration, Alice May Douglas, Bath, or of the national W. C. T. U. peace superintendent, Mrs. H. J. Bailey, Winthrop Centre.

"A pound of learning requires ten of common sense to apply."—Persian proverb.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

Those Hancock Point triplets—weights at birth eight, six and five and one-half pounds—are record-breakers for Hancock county.

Green Lake is to be stocked with togue this year, according to Chairman Carleton, of the State fish and game commission, who says 100,000 togue fry from the State hatchery at Monmouth will be planted there.

The Franklin school teacher who discovered an incipient forest fire along the railway near the schoolhouse, organized her school into a fire-fighting squad and soon quenched the fire, deserves a vote of thanks from the town.

Henry Crane, of Birch Harbor, is the glad owner of eight young foxes—glad because there are eight less to hunt his lambs. He saw the old fox among his sheep, and having previously lost two lambs, could readily guess her errand. He tracked her to the den, where he captured her young.

One of the famous old houses in western Hancock county is the Bray house at West Brooksville, built 115 years ago, and now owned and occupied by Sewall D. Tapley. In this house was held the first town meeting in Brooksville, after its incorporation as the 222d town in Maine, June 13, 1817. The meeting was held Monday, Nov. 10, 1817, and the officers elected were: Roger Lawrence, Joseph T. Parker and Elisha Smith, selectmen; Benjamin Redman and David Wasson, constables; Thomas Wasson, town clerk. The old house is in a good state of preservation, and bids fair to stand for several future generations as one of the finest specimens of the old-time New England architecture of the more pretentious kind.

FISHING AT GREEN LAKE.

The argument of the Bangor cottagers—that the fishing at Green Lake was being ruined by the practice of the government fish hatchery there of stripping fish for spawn, receives a black eye in the way the spring fishing opens up.

A conservative estimate of the number of fish taken at Green Lake during the first two weeks of open water, places it at 200 fish. One of the gratifying features of this is the fact that many of the fish taken are young fish, showing that the constant planting of fish in these waters is having its effect.

No man has yet successfully solved the riddle why fish will bite at one time and not at another when all weather and water conditions are apparently the same. There are good seasons and bad seasons on every lake.

Last season was a good one at Green Lake, but the first two weeks of the present season have gone way ahead of that, and the number of fish ranging from three to five pounds which have been caught suggests that the balance of natural food supply and the fish has at last been shifted by persistent planting, and the fish are now ready to take the bait.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Extracts from an Ellsworth Woman's Letter Gives Inside Glimpse.

Ellsworth friends and relatives of Mrs. H. Heppner, of San Francisco, who is remembered here at her old home as Miss Susie Adams, will be pleased to know of her safety and the general destruction at San Francisco, and interested in the following extracts from a letter written by her to Mrs. Susan Haynes DeLaitre, of Aikins, Minn., which gives an inside glimpse of the disaster:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.

We are safe, thank God, and are in the midst of relief work. My house was saved, and so I am sheltering some of the refugees. I stood in line this morning two hours to get fresh meat for my poor, homeless people. Oh! the horrors of this terrible calamity can never be told. The pen of the present nor the pen of the future, can never do it justice, and yet all are cheerful, and perfect order prevails. Plenty of food and the best kind; weather perfect and all classes are working hard for the building up of the city. Good will come out of this, and people will be better and know that God is over all. * * *

Yours was the first letter to reach me, and so I just cried for a minute to relieve my pent up feelings and get to work in hand. * * *

Ruth is here beside me doing work that must help make her a noble woman. I came near dying of heart failure when the earthquake came—but now I'm well and doing more than I ever thought I could. The second upheaval was heart-rending. It made me think of loved ones in different parts of the country. It gave me a heartache that I never shall forget. Suddenly, as sharply and abruptly as it began, the end of the tremble came. The dome of the city hall looked like a huge bird cage against the morning dawn. The upper works of the entire building laid peacefully (if that term can be used) in the street below.

Ruth has just come in with her arms full of clothes for the poor souls sheltered here.

FROM FORMER SEAWALL GIRL.

Mrs. Mattie Dolliver, of Seawall, has received a letter from her cousin, Mrs. Abbie M. Cleveland (born Moore) of San Francisco, formerly of Seawall, from which the following extracts are taken:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30, 1906.

We just escaped the fire. From our sitting-room window all we can see is the ruins of Nature has just one pigment on her palette with which she produces all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the iridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends upon the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, heighten the complexion, brighten the eyes and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clogging residuum, which accumulates with constipated habit.

the fire. The earthquake was awful but the fire was worse. Why, you can't imagine what it is like. Blocks and blocks are burned. We can look for over twenty blocks from the window and see nothing but ruins. We escaped by just half a block. We moved our clothing and blankets to the hill; didn't try to take any furniture. We stayed one night on the hill and came back next day. We have plenty to eat. We had to move our stove into the street and so we cook out there. We have twelve all together here now. There are poor homeless children and families camped all around us. We have no lights, only candle, and are not allowed any other. We have to have the light out by 11 o'clock. We lost our chimney, and the chimney on the house next door fell and put a hole in our roof. No one is allowed to cook in doors; everyone has to cook on the street. The supply of water is very short. We still have mild earthquakes, most every day. They are dynamiting all the dangerous walls that are standing. The railroad company furnished free transportation for a hundred miles, so most of the destitute people have left the city; so our population is quite reduced. All our friends are burned out. One friend had forty houses, and has just three left.

SPRING CATARRH.

G. A. Parcher Sells Hyomel Under Guarantee to Cure.

The changeable weather of Spring is directly responsible for the prevalence of catarrhal troubles in Ellsworth at the present time.

As a result, G. A. Parcher had a larger sale for Hyomel the past week than ever before in the years that he has handled this reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

If there is a single catarrhal germ in the system, Hyomel will search it out and absolutely destroy it, completely eradicating the trouble. The remedy has made so many cures among G. A. Parcher's customers that he offers to pay for it himself if it does not benefit even the worst case of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs only $1. consisting of an inhaler, medicine dropper, and bottle of Hyomel, while extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 cents. There will not be even this small expense if Hyomel does not cure, as G. A. Parcher will return your money.

MUTINEERS MUST HANG.

U. S. Supreme Court Sustains Verdict of Lower Court.

The mutineers of the schooner Harry A. Berwind, on which Capt. Edwin Rumill, of Pretty Marsh, and four of his crew were murdered on October 10 last, must hang. This is the decision of the United States supreme court on the appeal of Adams and Sawyer, two of the mutineers, for new trial. From this there is no appeal. Scott, the third of the mutineers under sentence, had no chance for re-trial, and all three must now be hung.

The decision of the supreme court was handed down last week, and while it came as a surprise to some, there are many who fully expected the lower court to be sustained.

It is not probable that the negroes will be re-sentenced at the present term of federal court in Wilmington, N. C., for the decision has to be certified to, and as a usual thing this is not done until the supreme court adjourns, which will mean that nothing can be done in the case before some time in June. The course will probably be to adjourn court until sometime in June, when Judge Burnell will go to Wilmington and pass sentence upon the men. Scott was reprieved until July, which means that none of the negroes will be hanged before that time.

The three negroes are now confined in the jail at Wilmington, N. C., where the hanging will probably take place. Since soon after the men's conviction they have had a guard over them each night. Every precaution has been taken to prevent escape.

There has always been a doubt in many people's minds about Adams being guilty, and some think Sawyer not guilty. Adams has no appearance of a criminal, but looks like a weak being who can be easily influenced or driven by threats. It is the opinion that Adams was implicated not of his own free will, but from fear of Scott and Sawyer.

CITY MEETING.

MANY MINOR MATTERS COME BEFORE THE BOARD.

PETITIONS FOR CRUSHED ROCK, HYDRANT AND SIDEWALKS—ABUSE OF CITY DUMP PRIVILEGE.

Monday evening's meeting of the board of aldermen was a busy one. Though no matters of large importance were before the meeting, there were many petitions, communications and requests to demand attention.

The residents of one street want more crushed rock, while a resident near the rock-crusher who gets it fresh from the quarry, wants less. Up at Ellsworth Falls they want a new fire bell, while down at Washington street they want another fire hydrant.

Alderman McCarthy, president of the board, presided in the absence of the mayor. Ald. present, McCarthy, Tripp, Moore and Austin.

A petition was received from residents of Park street asking the city to lay crushed rock on Park street from Oak to School streets, the Park Street Improvement society agreeing to contribute $150 toward the work. The aldermen thought the spirit shown by the ladies of Park street for the improvement of their locality should be encouraged. The proposition was accepted, and the street commissioner was instructed to do the work.

A petition was received from residents of ward one in the vicinity of High and Washington streets, asking for a fire hydrant at the corner of these streets. It was referred to a special committee consisting of Aldermen Tripp and Moore.

A communication was received from Wm. H. H. Rice post, G. A. R., asking for the usual contribution of $50 toward Memorial Day expenses, and the free use of Hancock hall for the Memorial Day services, and for the union service on the Sunday evening preceding Memorial Day. It was so voted.

FOR DAMAGE FROM ROCKS.

The following letter addressed to Mayor Hagerthy was presented to the board:

A rock from a blast has gone through my woodhouse and also broken two panes of glass in the stable. I notified G. F. Newman last Thursday and asked him to have it repaired at once. Of course I meant as soon as possible. He has failed to take any action toward repairing it. Now, unless it is repaired at once, I shall notify my attorney to give Mr. Newman another surprise, for I cannot have my building destroyed and then not half repaired.

I sent a bill to the city for pay for a door that was destroyed by rocks being thrown against it, and it was laid on the table, after which he would have repaired, but he failed to do so. I would like very much to have you look after that bill also. Mrs. A. B. SCAMMONS.

Street Commissioner Newman reported that the damage to roof of woodhouse consisted of the knocking out of a few shingles near the eaves. Half a dozen shingles would repair the damage. He said two panes of glass in the shed had been broken.

Ald. Moore reported that the door referred to had been repaired.

The letter was laid on the table pending further investigation.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Bonds of T. F. Mahoney, treasurer, and John H. Bresnahan, collector, were received and approved.

A petition was received from Ticonic hose company asking that a new bell be placed in the engine house at Ellsworth Falls, the present bell being cracked and unfit for use as an alarm. The matter was referred to the committee on fire department.

A petition for sidewalk on the Bangor road from Bangor bridge to the house of Charles W. Dunham was referred to Ald. McCarthy as a special committee of one.

A. E. Moore, with whom the city has an arrangement for using property owned by him as a public dump, appeared before the board to protest against the practice of some truckmen and others using the dump, of throwing refuse outside the ravine and of depositing there loose paper which was blown about the adjoining fields. The matter will be investigated, and some action taken to prevent the abuse of the dumping privilege.

B. F. Gray, street sprinkling contractor, reported to the board that he could not afford to do the sprinkling this year without a larger appropriation from the city. He made two propositions—to let the sprinkling cart and team to the city for $2.25 a day, or do the work as before if the city would increase its appropriation $150, making $400 in all. The aldermen favored the second proposition, and so voted.

M. J. Drummey, superintendent of the poor farm, suggested the advisability of having hose at the farm as a protection against fire. The board authorized Mr. Drummey to buy 150 or 200 feet of one-inch hose.

Ald. McCarthy, of the committee to which was referred the claim of Frank Sargent for damage from the new Maria-ville road, thought the $15 which had been offered by the board was sufficient to cover the damage alleged by depositing stamps on Mr. Sargent's land. This did not include land damage. Mr. Sargent would not accept this settlement, and suggested referring the matter to three men, one to be selected by the board, one by him and the third by these two. No action was taken.

Chief Engineer Eaton called the attention of the board to the condition of the fire ruins on Main street, which were a menace to neighboring property through danger of fire starting in the ruins and the accumulated rubbish.

The board instructed the clerk to notify the owners of the property to remove the rubbish and clear up the ruins forthwith. The meeting then adjourned.

A Patent Medicine Talk

Readers of such leading magazines, as the "Ladies' Home Journal" and "Collier's Weekly" must have noticed recently many articles relative to patent medicines.

The editors of these magazines are seeking to bring about by legislation and agitation, what they choose to call a reform in the patent medicine business. They make the statement that it is not only unsafe, but unwise, and in many cases destructive of health, for people to purchase and consume patent medicines the ingredients of which they have no knowledge.

It is not our purpose to enter into a discussion of the merits or demerits of this agitation or crusade. Thousands of people have used patent medicines and have been benefited by them. At the same time there are undoubtedly evils existing in the ABUSE of some so-called patent medicines. Because you have a thief in your neighborhood you would not say the whole neighborhood is composed of thieves. We know that we have plenty of customers at our counters who tell our clerks what benefit they derive from this or that preparation.

Yet even with this knowledge it is hard for us to say what one among the patent medicines is the "neighborhood black-leg." The unfortunate part of our position is that we do not know the formulas of the patent medicines we sell. We do not believe that the proprietors of patent medicines are dishonest or that they are intentionally misrepresenting their products. If we did we would certainly refuse to sell their goods over our counter.

Our exact position in this patent medicine agitation is this: We are the servants of the public. We sell and will continue to sell patent medicines just the same as the grocer sells you canned corn or potatoes. We want our patrons to find in our stock just what they demand, only we can positively say that at any time we find a medicine is injurious we will throw it out of our store.

Several years ago, a thousand of the leading druggists throughout the United States organized themselves together in a co-operative company to produce remedies which they could back up with their own names and their own reputations.

The first object of this co-operative company was to produce a line of remedies that every druggist would know thoroughly. There were to be no secret formulas; the ingredients of every remedy would be known to every druggist.

Each of these thousand druggists contributed to the organization all that his knowledge and experience had brought to him in the way of advice as to different remedies. The formulas of something like 2,000 or more remedies were sent to the company. A committee of experts was appointed and this committee went over the various formulas conscientiously and earnestly for a long period of time and selected from the entire list about 200 standard remedies, the manufacture of which the company then undertook.

The company in the meantime had erected a perfect laboratory—large, well-appointed, with every appliance known to modern skill. The combined capital of a thousand druggists made it possible for the company to purchase in the largest quantities, the fundamental drugs and herbs, etc., that form the ingredients of the various remedies.

This meant not only the highest quality in manufacture, but the very greatest economy—the cutting out of every wasteful item and every unnecessary expense.

The remedies when manufactured were shipped directly from the laboratory to the retail druggists. This insured their freshness and made it impossible for their quality to deteriorate. Not only that, but it also did away with the jobbers' profit. Here again the co-operative system added not only quality but brought about economy.

Most of our patrons are familiar with these facts. Most of them are already acquainted with the formulas of Rexall Remedies which are manufactured by the United Drug Co., with laboratory and principal offices in Boston, Mass. These are the remedies and this is the co-operative company that we believe has done more to bring about a change in patent medicine conditions than any other element in existence.

Each of the Rexall druggists know absolutely what each Rexall remedy contains. He has the formula of each remedy on file in his safe. He will gladly give it to anyone who is interested. There is nothing secret about any of the Rexall formulas. On the contrary, we are thoroughly proud of them. We want you to know about them.

No one Rexall remedy is a "cure-all." It is not necessary for us to invent diseases and symptoms and then endeavor to convince you that one Rexall remedy will cure you of every ailment in the world. To our minds that has been one of the fundamental errors of patent medicine manufacturers, and that has been corrected by the Rexall people. One remedy for each ill, and that remedy the unquestioned best in the world, is the principle upon which Rexall success is founded.

We are proud of our connection with Rexall. We are proud to be able to offer to the people of this community, a line of remedies that we can back up with every bit of reputation we have earned by square dealing and honest, conscientious treatment of our trade.

Our confidence in Rexall is shown by the fact that we absolutely guarantee every Rexall remedy we sell. This is not an empty phrase with us, we mean just what we say. If you buy a Rexall remedy and are not entirely satisfied with it, all you need to do is to bring the empty bottle or package back to us and say "I was not satisfied, please give me my money" and we will return the money to you instantly and cheerfully.

We feel that you are conferring an obligation upon us when you do this. We want to know every case that the Rexall remedies fail to cure. We want you to get your money back if the remedy has not done the work you expected it to do.

Can any principle of business be fairer than this? Is it not thoroughly in accord with President Roosevelt's doctrine of the square deal for every man?

From time to time in newspaper announcements, we shall say various things about various Rexall remedies. We want the people to understand thoroughly what the word Rexall means to every family in this entire community. If the real facts about Rexall were appreciated to-day, no other patent medicines would need to be offered to the people.

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

A vaudeville of great excellence is announced from Keith's for the week of May 14. Salerno, the dexterous juggler, will be the principal attraction; he manipulates umbrellas, letters, pens, knives, etc., and all his work is done with a precision that is a delight to witness.

The surrounding show is well up to the Keith standard. Included in the list will be Callahan and Mack, in their Irish comedy sketch, "The Old Neighborhood;" the Quartet Basque, a mixed organization of vocalists; Camille trio of comedy performers; Breckman, Mack and Belmont, in their mirth-provoking sketch, "The Count on Mother's Account;" Leona Thurber and her "Blackbirds," in an eccentric singing and dancing specialty;

Gaylor and Graff in a comedy sketch; Willie and Edith Hart, singers and dancers; Klein and Klain, comedy jugglers, and Lillian Maynard, English comedienne.

The customary change of the comedy and interesting motion pictures will be made in the kinetograph.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

One of the pleasantest events in the social life of Southwest Harbor took place on the evening of May 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Cousins, when a party surprised them on the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day. It was a genuine, old-fashioned surprise party. There were seventeen in the party, all relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Cousins were the recipients of a number of pretty presents, including a handsome lamp, which was presented with an original poem by an aunt of Mrs. Cousins.

The guests were: Henry Clark and wife, Nathan Clark and wife, J. A. Freeman and wife, A. I. Holmes and wife, Arthur Freeman and wife, Mrs. Augusta Clark, Mrs. Clarence Clark, Mrs. A. J. Robinson, Mrs. Grace Pease, Mrs. Harvey Hodgkins, Mrs. Julia Newman, Mrs. William Lawton. Other relatives were unable to be present.

Refreshments were served, which the guests furnished. It was hard to convince Mrs. Cousins that she was to be served rather than serve. Mrs. Cousins in a few nicely-chosen words, thanked the guests for their remembrance, to which Mr. Cousins added: "I will second the motion."

Flinch, the popular game, was introduced, and some of the gentlemen were loath to leave the game that caused so much merriment, one of them remarking: "This event comes only once in twenty years; let us have another game."

A look at Mr. and Mrs. Cousins was enough to convince one of the pleasure they were enjoying. The guests departed feeling that there was more pleasure in giving than receiving.

Mrs. Pomroy, of Bayside, whose husband recently died, has come to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Melville Richardson, of this place.

Miss Maud Harding, who came from New York to care for her aunt, Mrs. M. F. Harding, is spending a few days in Bar Harbor before her return to New York.

The many friends of Mrs. Abbie Walls, who sympathized with her in her recent loss, will be glad to know that, with the help of her son, Thomas Walls, F. O. Crockett and many others, she has succeeded in starting to build a stable which she hopes to complete before very long. Mrs. Walls expresses her thanks to all who have so generously aided her.

S. Harding and wife were generously remembered as usual on May night by their little friends of the neighborhood who, owing to the illness of Mrs. Harding, came with quiet step and gentle knock and left their baskets filled with fruit and confectionery. They were pursued by Mrs. John Abram who, guided by their "stage" whispers, finally found them closely hidden behind the woodpile. The children were invited in, and after enjoying a little treat and a social half-hour's talk, they bade a pleasant good-night and returned to their homes.

The case will probably be tried this evening before Recorder Kemick, of Bucksport.

The ladies of Companion court Winona, I. O. F., gave an entertainment, ball and supper at Emerson hall Tuesday evening, which netted them quite a nice little sum toward the purchase of new regalia. The star number on the programme was the rendition of the song, "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," by the three little boys of Mrs. Charles Richardson. At the beginning of the grand march the members of the court, in regalia, formed on the floor and had a flash-light picture taken by Photographer Seybt.

DEATH OF MRS. W. H. SARGENT.

Castine loses, in the death of Mrs. W. H. Sargent, another of her old residents. Mrs. Sargent had been a sufferer since December, when she had a fall while attending to her work about the house, causing a fracture of the hip, from which she had been confined to her bed until her death which occurred on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Sargent seemed for some time after her fall to be improving, until in January, when their home was burned, as noted at the time in these columns, but the shock occasioned by the fire and her removal from the burning house caused rheumatism to set in, from which she had been a great sufferer. Mrs. Sargent was in her ninetieth year.

The funeral took place from the home on Friday, the remains being taken on the launch Dodger to Sedgwick for interment. She leaves a husband, W. H. Sargent, and one son, William G., of Castine, and a daughter, Mrs. Herbert Sargent, of Portland, who have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

RED CROSS.

Organization of Hancock County as a Sub-division.

A meeting was held last Saturday afternoon at Manning hall at which the organization of Hancock county as a sub-division of the Maine branch of the American National Red Cross society was completed.

The meeting was addressed by Mrs. Eugene Hale, president of the Maine branch, who spoke in a general way of the aims and purposes of the society, prefacing her remarks by saying that it was not her intention to trench on the ground that would be covered by Miss Mabel T. Boardman, a member of the national executive committee, who is to make a public address at Odd Fellows hall next Thursday evening.

She read the following brief sketch of the aims and purposes of the society:

The international conference which met at Geneva, Switzerland, August 22, 1864, agreed upon a treaty for the purpose of mitigating the evils inseparable from war. This treaty has been ratified by forty-four nations, including the United States. The conference recommended "that there exist in every country a committee whose mission consists in co-operating in times of war with the hospital service of the armies by all means in its power". They also recommended the adoption and use of a distinctive flag and arm badge. This flag—a Geneva red cross on white ground, and arm badge or brassard, a Geneva red cross on white band—has been adopted, and is now in use in every country having a national Red Cross organization.

The charter granted by Congress, in January, 1905, to the American National Red Cross, declared the purpose of the corporation to be:

To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war, in accordance with the spirit and conditions of the Geneva convention.

To act in matters of voluntary relief, and in accord with the military and naval authorities, as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their army and navy, and to act in such matters between similar national societies of other governments through the "Comite International de Secours" and the government and the people and the army and navy of the United States of America.

To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace, and apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities.

Congress considered the importance of the work so great that the charter granted in 1905 provided for government supervision. The charter conferred on the board of incorporators and the central committee the power necessary to carry into effect the above provisions.

In pursuance of this authority the central committee proposes to organize, in every state and territory of the United States, branch societies, to enable every person who desires to become a member of the society, and awaken in this country the same interest in the objects of the organization that is so markedly manifested in every other nation having a national Red Cross society.

The necessity of being prepared for emergencies has been too often demonstrated to require argument. The object of the central committee is to have in each state and territory a branch society that will be ready to act at once in time of war or disaster, and so strong in its personnel that it will command universal confidence.

Each branch will act as a unit in the organization, and take charge in case of any great calamity in its state. Its executive committee or a special committee will enroll doctors and nurses for Red Cross service in time of war or great disaster in the state or its immediate vicinity. Reports as to the numbers of doctors and nurses enrolled by each branch will be made annually through the central committee to the army medical department.

In case of calamity its executive committee will receive and take charge of all contributions of supplies and materials, forwarding the same to the field of disaster.

The secretary of each branch will keep informed as to the number, names and addresses of the doctors and nurses enrolled for active service. This service may be given either without compensation or for the same salaries as those paid by the war department, namely, $150 a month for medical officers, and for nurses, $40 a month for service in the United States and $50 a month for service outside of the United States. The secretary will also keep informed as to where hospital and relief supplies can be obtained at shortest notice.

Charts will be prepared by the central committee, based upon the regulations of the army medical department, giving the personnel and supplies needed for a field hospital for forty-eight persons, so that any branch or a sub-division thereof will be able at short notice to provide such a hospital fully equipped for active service.

The treasurer of each branch, in case of calamity in the state, will retain all moneys contributed for the relief work, keeping an accurate account of all receipts and expenditures, as the charter requires that all accounts be audited by the war department. In case of calamities outside the state, he will forward promptly all contributions for the relief work to the central treasurer, at Washington.

The annual dues are $1, fifty per cent. of this remaining in the branch treasury and fifty per cent. being sent to the central emergency fund. Life membership dues are $25, and all such dues form part of the central endowment fund.

It is hoped that all members of the Red Cross, and others in sympathy with its work of mitigating the sufferings incident to war, pestilence or calamity, may aid in strengthening and increasing the efficiency of the organization by using their personal efforts to enlarge its membership.

Mrs. Hale expressed the hope that Hancock county would take a strong interest in the work of the society, and attest its interest by a large membership.

The president of this sub-division, appointed by the president of the Maine branch, is Mrs. A. P. Wiswell, of this city; the secretary is Mrs. Edward K. Hopkins, also of this city.

At the close of Mrs. Hale's remarks all were invited to become members, and the invitation was promptly accepted by practically all of those present.

Next Thursday evening Miss Boardman will speak at Odd Fellows hall (instead of Hancock hall as previously announced) on the work of Red Cross throughout the world. Miss Boardman is the only woman on the national committee, and probably has done more work than any other member. It was she who went to the Philippines with Secretary Taft's party last year to organize a branch of the Red Cross in our far-eastern possessions.

The lecture, it is expected, will be illustrated by stereopticon views showing the character and magnitude of the operations in the late war between Russia and Japan.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting, which is sure to be of intense interest. There will be no admission fee, and no collection, but those who so desire will be given an opportunity to become members of the society.

THE WILES OF BEASTS OF PREY.

The panther on the plains of Patagonia gets as near a herd of guanacos as it can, then lies down behind a bush on its back. It puts one paw up in the air, then another, then the third and fourth and after a bit all four at once. That seems curious to the guanacos, and they come close to investigate. Up jumps the panther and lights on the nearest one's back and breaks its neck. A fox up in Nova Scotia comes down to the bay of Fundy and goes jumping along the beach a couple of rods and back again, rising on its hind legs at each about face and waving its big tail in the air. The little flock of four or five Canada geese out on the water begin to wonder what can be the matter with the fox. They swim up into the shallow water to investigate, when in dashes the fox and grabs one by the neck. The men have taken advantage of this trick and have trained dogs to do as the fox does. For lack of a dog men themselves have ambled about on their hands and knees to attract the birds.

The Wonders of Transposition.

The word "time" admits of a very peculiar arrangement of its letters. The four letters of the word transposed and read backward and forward and up and down give four perfect English and Latin words. It is said to be the only word in our language that will admit of so many transpositions and arrangements. Note the oddity of the square below:

TIME
EMIT

The above words in English as well as in Latin are all complete, and the curious part of it is that reading them backward and forward and up and down gives the same result that transposing the letters in the original word does. Their significance as Latin words is as follows: Time, fear thou; item, likewise; meti, to be measured; emit, he buys.

Curious Facts About the Eye.

A very curious fact is the impossibility of moving your eye while examining the reflection of that organ in a mirror. It is really the most movable part of the face. Yet if you hold your head fixed and try to move your eye while watching it you cannot do it—even the one-thousandth of an inch. Of course if you look at the reflection of the nose or any other part of your face your eye must move to see it. But the strange thing is that the moment your endeavor to perceive the motion the eye is fixed. This is one of the reasons why a person's expression as seen by himself in a glass is quite different from what it is when seen by others.

Eddy Forces Win in Republican Caucus—Other News Notes.

John W. Doe and family arrived from Palm Beach, Fla., Monday, where Mr. Doe has been conducting the drug store formerly owned by Doe & Gonyea. Mr. Doe has purchased the J. Milton Allen building on Main street, and will open a new drug store here as soon as necessary repairs and improvements in the store have been completed.

A special civil service examination for clerk and carrier in the Bar Harbor postoffice will be held in G. A. R. hall on May 17, 1906, at 2 o'clock. Applicants must be between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years and citizens of the United States. Application forms and pamphlet of information may be obtained from Mrs. A. S. Higgins at the postoffice, or Edward E. Stebbins, secretary of the board of examiners, postoffice building, Boston.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The republican caucus to elect delegates to the republican county convention at Ellsworth June 5, was held at the Casino Saturday evening, and resulted in a victory for the Eddy forces. The total vote cast was 625. The Deasy, Eddy and Wood ticket received 423 votes and the Sumnysby, Deasy and Wood ticket 202 votes.

The caucus was called to order at 7.30 by Edward S. Clark, chairman of the republican town committee. Charles F. Paine was elected chairman and Milton S. Arty secretary. Harrison E. Wakefield, Martin L. Lord, Herbert F. Graham and Charles E. Marceys were appointed tellers.

About 8 o'clock the polls were opened, and the voting continued rapidly for an hour. From that time to the closing of the polls at 10 o'clock comparatively few votes were cast. Soon after the voting began it was seen that the Eddy supporters were greatly in the majority, and their delegates would in all probability win.

The contest was carried on sharply on the floor of the house, and the Sumnysby men worked hard in the face of pretty certain defeat. The vote was practically the same as at the legislative caucus the Tuesday previous, and the same forces were lined up on each side.

Both sets of delegates were for Deasy and Wood, and the fight was between Eddy and Sumnysby, candidates for sheriff. Mr. Eddy is a carpenter by trade and is well known as a labor leader and organizer. He is a member of the legislative committee of the Maine Federation of Labor, and last year was appointed a special agent of the labor commission giving valuable service to Commissioner Mathews.

Mr. Eddy in the county convention will have a delegation of eighteen men from Bar Harbor to start with. The same delegation will fight for the nomination of Mr. Deasy as senator. The delegation is solid for the re-nomination of Charles H. Wood as county attorney.

The delegates and alternates elected are as follows:

Alternates—Blithen S. Higgins, Frank E. Walls, H. Martin Clark, Lawrence Emery, Max Franklin, W. E. Brann, Albert H. Lynam, Daniel West, Joseph W. Wood, Vernon E. Grant, Roy Hamor, Clifton E. Dolliver, Franklin P. Pray, Orlando Wescott, Maynard W. Paine, Isaac M. Tripp, Albion P. Alley, Irving Mitchell.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The call has been issued for a democratic caucus to be held at the municipal court room Saturday evening, May 12, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative to the legislature. L. A. Austin is being strongly urged to accept the nomination. Mr. Austin is very popular, and would make a strong candidate, but he says his business interests are such that he cannot accept the nomination. Other democrats prominently mentioned for the nomination are W. H. Sherman and Fred Jellison.
